Hi, I am Kasi viswanadh. I am a Cloud and designing trainee. studying a bachelor of technology in the stream of Coumputer Science engineering. I recently completed cloud and designing training at our college's Technical Hub.Kubernetes is a great tool for orchestrating containerised applications. It automates the very complex task of dynamically scaling an application in real time. Kubernetes orchestration allows you to build application services that span multiple containers, schedule containers across a cluster, scale those containers, and manage their health over time.
